

OUTLOOK BAD FOR RAISING DEBT ON MILL

THE LIENS FILED ON LEMON MILL AGGREGATE TO DATE $29,000.

"I haven't much hope that the Lemon mill at Mantattan will be able to meet the indebtedness piled up against it," remarked a mining man from the northern camp this morning. "The nineteen liens filed in the recorder's office here on Monday total about $29,000, and no one believes that J. V. Priest, the head of the Nevada Reduction company, which is operating the mill, will be able to raise it."

"When Priest organized his company last fall and took over the plant, it was figured that something like $12,000 would be required to overhaul it and put it in first-class shape for operations. Well, Priest has spent $10,000 in actual cash on the work, and piled up a debt of $29,000 beside, and the mill isn't running yet. Just now, it would seem, there is small probability of raising the money."

"The sympathies of the camp, however, are with Mr. Priest in his difficulties. The camp has no other independent mill, and the small leasers fear that they will be unable to get their ores treated by the two company mills—the War Eagle and the Canyon."

GOOD WORK WELL DONE.

Sunday, January 1, 1911, saw the culmination of a business enterprise that means much to Mono county and is the result of years of persistent endeavor—the completion of the plant and power of the Hydro-Electric company. For years J. S. Cain has endeavored to enlist capital in the development of power in Mono county and finally succeeded last spring, after which time the dirt flew and things began to move.

At Jordan, in Mill creek canyon and at Lundy laborers and mechanics prepared the ground and buildings, while from Minden, Thorne and Yerington the roads were lined with pipe, machinery, wire, insulators and other supplies and everything was rushed to complete the line that would furnish power for the mines and mills from Jordan, California, to Wonder, Nevada. A. F. Dieter, the secretary and treasurer of the company, moved to Bodie and directed the construction and the completion of the work in really one summer and is evidence enough that he kept things going. In fact, had it not been for an injunction on the part of the forest service the lines would have been in operation some two months ago.

With the first of the year the company began supplying Bodie, Aurora and Lucky Boy with electric current and the linemen are at present about 12 or 14 miles beyond Hawthorne with the power and telephone lines and next month Fairview and Wonder will be live and growing camps, supplied with electricity from the mountains of Mono county.

To the foresight of J. S. Cain, and his unswerving belief in the future of Mono county can be given the credit of bringing about the installation of this enterprise, which will do so much for eastern California and western Nevada.—Bridgeport Chronicle-Union.

SULPHUR DEPOSIT ON WINNEMUCCA MOUNTAIN

While doing development work on his claims on Winnemucca mountain, Richard See has discovered what has the appearance of being a large deposit of sulphur. The yellow mineral occurs in a porous rock and readily burns when placed in a fire. Mr. See has been working on his claims for some time opening a gold-bearing ledge and was somewhat surprised when he cut into the sulphur deposit. This is the first of this mineral to be found on the mountain.

FAIL TO IDENTIFY THE ALLEGED TRAIN ROBBERS

The identification of the men arrested at Ogden for holding up and robbing No. 1 is said to be far from complete. Conductor Middleton and brakeman Hancock were unable to positively identify the men. They declared, however, that Pete Murphy, one of the suspects, resembled the tall robber, basing their conclusions upon the man's stooped shoulders and slow walk.

WILL BUILD WARD ROAD IN THE SPRING

Six men are still working at the Nevada United Mines at Ward, though reports have been in circulation to the effect that the company had shut down entirely. Work on the new Deffiance tunnel was stopped for the winter on account of the location of its highness above the camp where the boarding and bunk houses of the company are located and on account of the snowfall. The six men remaining are employed in the Good Luck tunnel lower down the hill and it is the expectation of Superintendent Pearl that work will be continued there all winter by the company.

Early next spring construction of the railroad to connect the mines at Ward with the Nevada Northern at Ely will be commenced and completed as rapidly as possible. This will permit the company to make shipments of the large tonnage of low grade ores carrying gold, silver, lead and copper values that has been developed during the last four years. It will also enable the company to get supplies and materials much cheaper than at present when it is necessary to haul everything eighteen miles by wagon.

Next year there will also be a much larger force of miners employed at the mines than the old camp has seen since work by the Martin White company was discontinued some years ago. The old company operated the mines for the silver ores that were found there and when the price of the metal fell lower than it had been for years the company pulled up stakes and quit for good. With better prices prevailing for lead and cheapened methods for reducing ores at the smelting plants, the low grade ores opened in the mines can be profitably extracted and shipped where a railroad reaches the mines.—Ely Express.

TAKES WESTERN PACIFIC TRAFFIC AT ELKO

The Elko Independent says: John A. Gill, traveling freight agent of the Southern Pacific, is in town. He informed us that the Southern Pacific would build an interchange track to connect with the Western Pacific so that all westbound passenger and freight trains of the latter road could be run over the Southern Pacific until the blockade of the Western Pacific was raised. The track will connect the two roads near the stock corrals.

No relatives of the deceased have been discovered as yet and the estate, which is valued at nearly $8,000, is placed in the hands of the public administrator for safety.—Tribune.

PUBLICATION WILL ADVANCE THIS STATE

"The New Nevada" will shortly make its appearance. It will prove to be the best publicity publication that this state has ever had, according to the plans of the editor-in-chief, A. J. Wells, who is now in this city collecting data, says the Reno Gazette.

He has had several staff writers and a photographer in the state for some time and the compilation is nearly completed. The book will be magazine size, containing sixty-four pages. It will be copiously illustrated.

The first edition will be 25,000 copies and others will be issued when that is exhausted. The work will be distributed free throughout the United States, being placed where it will do the most good for the state and for the Southern Pacific company.

Mr. Wells said to a Gazette representative: "Nevada is at the tail end of the list of states in many particulars, and we must be moderate in advertising its resources. We must recognize the limitations as well as the immense potentialities of the state. The work we are preparing will tell the truth fully, but conservatively."

"At present the state has no publicity matter worthy the name except some that is being sent out from Mason City and Elko county."

DESERVED PRAISE FOR HUMBOLDT'S SHERIFF

The Wells Herald says: "Sheriff Lamb of Humboldt county does things. That county has had many murderers in the last few years and the guilty parties are almost invariably caught and punished. The sheriff does not wait for the criminals to come to him, but buckles on his armor and goes out and gets them. Just about this time such officers as Sheriff Lamb are badly needed at Ogden. Were he there some train robbers would stand an excellent chance of getting caught."

"Your sister's a long time about making her appearance," suggested the caller. "Well," said the little brother, "she'd be a sight if she came down without making it."

Postal banks recognize the right of a wife to carry an account without let or hindrance from her husband, but they do not provide private rooms for her to go to her stockings for her hoard.

"I don't know whether I ought to recognize him here in the city or not. Our acquaintance at the seashore was very slight. 'You promised to marry him, didn't you?' 'Yes, but that was all.—Louisville Courier-Journal.
